Al Betz & Associates and Capitol Copy Service join forces to deliver comprehensive portfolio of court reporting, litigation, and document management support services

– eDiscovery solution expands document management capabilities and boasts compatibility with today’s top litigation support software –

Westminster, MD & Harrisburg, PA – August 3, 2010 – Al Betz & Associates, Inc. (AB&A) (www.albetzreporting.com), a Maryland-based company providing excellence in court reporting since 1977, today announced its affiliation with Harrisburg/Lancaster, PA-based Capitol Copy Service (CCS) (www.capitolcopy.net) to enhance its wide-ranging set of court reporting, captioning, and litigation support services. The affiliation adds eDiscovery, an electronic data discovery solution from CCS, to the already comprehensive portfolio of AB&A services, providing a vast array of document management and delivery capabilities that are compatible with today’s top litigation support software.

“Due to the amount of digital evidence in today’s legal cases,” said CCS owner Bruce Berkley, “our eDiscovery and litigation imaging tools are vital to the growth of our operation and to the efficiency and timeliness of the support process. By coupling this solution with the extensive court reporting and transcription services offered by Al Betz & Associates, this affiliation becomes an extremely comprehensive offering.” The eDiscovery solution provides the capability to process hundreds of standard file types across multiple directories, process email data bases and extract mail attachments, convert static documents into searchable data, and produce deliverables that accommodate today’s top litigation support software.

Ryan Black, PA-based partner of AB&A, noted, “By aligning with Capitol Copy Service, we now have the ability to deliver an unrivaled far-reaching solution set for the full scope of court reporting, litigation, and document management services that are in high demand throughout the industry today. Bringing together the two extensive solution sets of AB&A and CCS – with combined nationwide industry service of 50 years – puts in place a complete start-to-finish package that will enable clients to access all their litigation needs with a one-stop solution.”

AB&A has offices in Baltimore, MD, Washington, D.C., and Harrisburg, PA, with its corporate administrative location in Westminster, MD. CCS is headquartered in Harrisburg and also has offices in Lancaster, PA. Both AB&A and CCS provide services nationwide.

ABA&A and CCS are also currently in discussions with a third party to enhance this new affiliation with the incorporation of a state-of-the-art video technology which provides picture-in-picture interactive exhibit presentation, affording improved efficiency and seamless courtroom proceedings. Details and specifics regarding this announcement are expected in the coming weeks.
